

Based on data and insight from BMI Research, the Political Risk Map 2017 provides country risk scores for more than 200 countries and territories. The overall risk scores are based on three categories of risk – political, economic, and operational – and reflect both short- and long-term threats to stability.