Current Issues

CLAIMS ARE GETTING LARGER AND MORE COMPLICATED

- Wordings are innovating, covering new risks with deeper, broader exposure.
- Placements can be complex with a large number of subscribing underwriters.
- Globalisation of business creates complex supply chains and interdependencies.

INSURERS' DUE DILIGENCE IS INCREASING

- Competitive premiums and transitioning market conditions create claims scrutiny pressures.
- More experts are involved in the process creating delays and disputes on facts, quantum, and coverage.

Successful claims do not happen by accident. They are managed professionally and proactively from start to finish. Detailed claims preparation, exacting project management, tenacious negotiation, clear strategy, and diplomatic relationship management are all pivotal to achieving success.
