

MARSH GMBH'S PRIVACY NOTICE

Marsh GmbH (Marsh), part of the Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. group, strives to protect the privacy and the confidentiality of Personal Data that the company processes in connection with the services it provides to clients. Marsh's services consist primarily of risk consulting and insurance broking, which enable the consideration of, access to, administration of, and making of claims on, insurance.

Insurance is the pooling and sharing of risk against a possible eventuality. In order to do this, information, including the Personal Data of different categories of individuals, needs to be shared between different insurance market participants (see chart 1, page 7) through the insurance lifecycle (see chart 2, page 7).

To clarify the terms used in this Privacy Notice we have set out the roles of the key Insurance Market Participants below:

- Policyholders: request insurance to protect themselves against risks that could affect them. They may approach an Intermediary (such as Marsh) to purchase insurance or they may approach an Insurer directly or via a price comparison website.
- Intermediaries: help Policyholders and Insurers arrange insurance cover. They may offer advice and handle claims. Many insurance and reinsurance policies are obtained through Intermediaries.
- Insurers: (sometimes also called underwriters) provide insurance cover to Policyholders in return for payment (premium).
- Reinsurers: provide insurance cover to another Insurer or Reinsurer. That insurance is known as reinsurance.

During the insurance lifecycle, Marsh may receive Personal Data relating to potential or actual Policyholders, Beneficiaries under a policy, their family members, claimants and other parties involved in a claim. Therefore, references to "individuals" in this Privacy Notice include any living person from the preceding list, whose Personal Data Marsh receives in connection with the services it provides under its engagements with its clients. This Privacy Notice sets out Marsh's uses of this Personal Data and the disclosures it makes to other Insurance Market Participants and other third parties.

A glossary of key terms used in this Privacy Notice can be found on page 8.

HOW WE USE AND DISCLOSE YOUR PERSONAL DATA

In this section, we set out the purposes for which we use Personal Data, explain how we share the information, and identify the legal grounds on which we rely to process the information.

These legal grounds are set out in the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), which allows companies to process Personal Data only when the processing is permitted by the specific legal grounds set out in the regulation.

Please note that in addition to the disclosures we have identified in the table below, we may disclose Personal Data for the purposes we explain in this Privacy Notice to service providers, contractors, agents and companies of the Marsh McLennan group that perform activities on our behalf.

CONSENT

In order to facilitate the provision of insurance cover and administer insurance claims, we rely on the data subject's consent to process Special Categories of Personal Data, such as medical and criminal convictions records, as set out in the table above and for profiling as set out in the next section. This consent allows us to share the information with other Insurers, Intermediaries and Reinsurers that may need to process the information in order to undertake their role in the insurance market (which in turn allows for the pooling and pricing of risk in a sustainable manner).

The affected individual's consent to this processing of Special Categories of Personal Data is a necessary condition for Marsh to be able to provide the services the client requests.

Where you are providing us with information about a person other than yourself, you agree to notify them of our use of their Personal Data and to obtain such consent for us.

Individuals may withdraw their consent to such processing at any time. However, doing so may prevent Marsh from continuing to provide the services to the relevant client. In addition, if an individual withdraws consent to an Insurer's or Reinsurer's processing of their Special Categories of Personal Data, it may not be possible for the insurance cover to continue.

PROFILING AND AUTOMATED DECISION MAKING

Insurance premiums are calculated by Insurance Market Participants benchmarking clients' and beneficiaries' attributes as against other clients' and beneficiaries' attributes and propensities for insured events to occur. This benchmarking requires Marsh and other Insurance Market Participants to analyze and compile information received from all insureds, beneficiaries or claimants to model such propensities. Accordingly, we may use Personal Data to both match against the information in the models and to create the models that determine the premium pricing in general and for other insureds. Marsh and other Insurance Market Participants may use Special Categories of Personal Data for such modelling to the extent it is relevant, such as medical history for life insurance or past motor vehicle convictions for motor insurance.

Marsh and other Insurance Market Participants use similar predictive techniques to assess information that clients and individuals provide to understand fraud patterns, the probability of future losses actually occurring in claims scenarios, and as set out below.

We use these models only for the purposes listed in this Privacy Notice. In most cases, our staff make decisions based on the models.

Automated broking platform

Where clients use an automated broking platform, insurance quotations are offered entirely by matching whether the attributes that the client has provided meet the criteria set by the insurers, which determines (a) whether a quotation will be made, (b) on what terms, and (c) at what price. Each insurer will use different algorithms to determine their pricing, and clients must consult each insurer's privacy policy for further details. Our platform merely queries whether clients' attributes satisfy insurers' models and then returns the results. If the potential insured's attributes do not satisfy insurers' models, the quotation request is referred for review by a team with underwriting authority. We also apply fraud prediction algorithms to the information clients provide to assist us in detecting and preventing fraud. We regularly review all profiling and associated algorithms against inaccuracies and bias.

These partially automated processes may result in a client not being offered insurance or affect the price or terms of the insurance.

Clients may request that we provide information about the decision-making methodology and ask us to verify that the automated decision has been made correctly. We may reject the request, as permitted by applicable law, including when providing the information would result in a disclosure of a trade secret or would interfere with the prevention or detection of fraud or other crime but generally, in these circumstances we will verify that the algorithm and source data are functioning as anticipated without error or bias.

SAFEGUARDS

Marsh has in place physical, electronic, and procedural safeguards appropriate to the sensitivity of the information we maintain. These safeguards will vary depending on the sensitivity, format, location, amount, distribution and storage of the Personal Data, and include measures designed to keep Personal Data protected from unauthorized access. If appropriate, the safeguards include the encryption of communications via SSL, encryption of information during storage, firewalls, access controls, separation of duties, and similar security protocols. We restrict access to Personal Data to personnel and third parties that require access to such information for legitimate, relevant business purposes.

LIMITING COLLECTION AND RETENTION OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

Marsh collects, uses, discloses and otherwise processes Personal Data that is necessary for the purposes identified in this Privacy Notice or as permitted by law. If we require Personal Data for a purpose inconsistent with the purposes we identified in this Privacy Notice, we will notify clients of the new purpose and, where required, seek individuals' consent (or ask other parties to do so on Marsh's behalf) to process Personal Data for the new purposes.

Marsh's retention periods for Personal Data are based on business needs and legal requirements. We retain Personal Data for as long as is necessary for the processing purpose(s) for which the information was collected, and any other permissible, related purpose or as required by law. For example, we may retain certain transaction details and correspondence until the time limit for claims arising from the transaction has expired, or to comply with regulatory requirements regarding the retention of such data. When Personal Data is no longer needed, we either irreversibly anonymize the data (and we may further retain and use the anonymized information) or securely destroy the data.

CROSS-BORDER TRANSFER OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

Marsh transfers Personal Data to, or permits access to Personal Data from, countries outside the European Economic Area (EEA). These countries' data protection laws do not always offer the same level of protection for Personal Data as offered in the EEA. We will, in all circumstances, safeguard Personal Data as set out in this Privacy Notice.

Certain countries outside the EEA have been approved by the European Commission as providing essentially equivalent protections as EEA data protection laws. EU data protection laws allow Marsh to freely transfer Personal Data to such countries.

If we transfer Personal Data to other countries outside the EEA, we will establish legal grounds justifying such transfer, such as Marsh McLennan Binding Corporate Rules, model contractual clauses, individuals' consent, or other legal grounds permitted by applicable legal requirements.

Individuals can request additional information about the specific safeguards applied to the export of their Personal Data by contacting the Data Protection Officer at the address below.

ACCURACY, ACCOUNTABILITY, OPENNESS AND YOUR RIGHTS

We strive to maintain Personal Data that is accurate, complete and current. Individuals should contact us at datenschutz@marsh.com to update their information.

Questions regarding Marsh's privacy practices should be first directed to Marsh's Data Protection Officer.

Under certain conditions, individuals have the right to request Marsh to:

- provide further details on how we use and process their Personal Data;
- provide a copy of the Personal Data we maintain about the individual;
- update any inaccuracies in the Personal Data we hold;
- delete Personal Data that we no longer have a legal ground to process;
- where processing is based on consent, to withdraw the consent;
- object to any processing of Personal Data that Marsh justifies on the "legitimate interests" legal grounds, unless our reasons for undertaking that processing outweigh any prejudice to the individual's privacy rights; and
- restrict how we process the Personal Data while we consider your inquiry.

These rights are subject to certain exemptions to safeguard the public interest (e.g. the prevention or detection of crime) and our interests (e.g. the maintenance of legal privilege). We will respond to most requests within 30 days.

If Marsh is unable to resolve an inquiry or a complaint, individuals have the right to lodge a complaint with the Data Protection Commissioner of Hesse.

GLOSSARY

KEY INSURANCE TERMS

Beneficiary is an individual or a company that an insurance policy states may receive a payment under the insurance policy if an insured event occurs. A beneficiary does not have to be the insured/policyholder and there may be more than one beneficiary under an insurance policy.

Claimant is either a beneficiary who is making a claim under an insurance policy or an individual or a company who is making a claim against a beneficiary where that claim is covered by the insurance policy.

Claims processing is the process of handling a claim that is made under an insurance policy.

Inception is when the insurance policy starts.

Insurance is the pooling and transfer of risk in order to provide financial protection against a possible eventuality. There are many types of insurance. The expression insurance may also mean reinsurance.

Insurance market participant(s) is an intermediary, insurer or reinsurer.

Insurance policy is a contract of insurance between the insurer and the insured/policyholder.

Insured/policyholder is the individual or company in whose name the insurance policy is issued. A potential insured/policyholder may approach an intermediary to purchase an insurance policy or they may approach an insurer directly or via a price comparison website.

Insurers (sometimes also called underwriters) provide insurance cover to insured/policyholders in return for premium. An insurer may also be a reinsurer.

Intermediaries help policyholders and insurers arrange insurance cover. They may offer advice and handle claims. Many insurance and reinsurance policies are obtained through intermediaries.

Policy administration is the process of administering and managing an insurance policy following its inception.

Premium is the amount of money to be paid by the insured/policyholder to the insurer in the insurance policy. Reinsurers provide insurance cover to another insurer or reinsurer. That insurance is known as reinsurance.

Quotation is the process of providing a quote to a potential insured/policyholder for an insurance policy.

Renewal is the process of the insurer under an insurance policy providing a quotation to the insured/policyholder for a new insurance policy to replace the existing one on its expiry.

KEY DATA PROTECTION TERMS

GDPR is the EU General Data Protection Regulation and the national data protection legislation in force in the relevant EU Member State where Marsh is established.

Data controller is an entity, which collects and holds personal data. It decides what personal data it collects about you and how that personal data is used. Any of the insurance market participants when using personal data for the purposes set out in Section 5 could be data controllers.

Personal data is any data from which you can be identified and which relates to you. It may include data about any claims you make.

Processing of personal data includes collecting, using, storing, disclosing or erasing your personal data.

ANNEX

Overview of the legal bases on which we rely:

Legal basis	Details
For the processing of personal data and special categories of personal data
Fulfillment of our contract with you	The processing is necessary for the performance of a contract to which you are a party or to take action at your request prior to entering into a contract.
Fulfillment of a legal obligation	The processing is necessary for compliance with a legal obligation to which we are subject.
Legitimate business interests	The processing is necessary to protect the legitimate interests of us or a third party, unless such interests are overridden by your interests or fundamental rights and freedoms requiring the protection of personal data, in particular if you are a child. These legitimate interests are indicated next to each purpose.
For the processing of special categories of personal data
Your express consent	You have expressly consented to the processing of this personal data for one or more of the specified purposes. You may withdraw your consent at any time by contacting our data protection officer. However, revocation of this consent may affect our ability to provide services. For more details, please see the "Consent" section (page 4) above.
For legal claims	The processing is necessary for the assertion, exercise or defense of legal claims or in the case of actions by the courts in the course of their judicial activities.
Significant public interest	The processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public interest based on EU law.
